"Asian Integration-Initiative Series"

Initiated by Prof. (Dr.) R P Banerjee, Chairman & Director, EIILM Kolkata

"Let Entities of Asia Unite"

Historically, Asia has witnessed stresses from Western part of the World in the form of political and economic dominance. Even after having achieved independence from Western Powers, different kinds of international trade blocks and organizations with Western dominance have continued to subordinate the Asians in the geographical region of Asia. Where nearly 60% of world's population and 40% of dominant global consumers inhabit in Asia, the economic control and thereby the flow of benefits in the economic process are hardly distributed among people of Asia. Asia does not have any dearth of resources—material, technological, knowledge, financial, and human. However, because of the discrete position of Asian nations and lack of appropriate coordination among them, the Asians are continuously pressed between the push and pull factors initiated by Western dominant power.

It is in this context that we thought about giving a call to Asian Nations and people of Asia to look at home and possibly join hands with each other for free flow of men, material and resources and develop a homogeneous integrated Asia. This will certainly give a new shape to the future of the world in terms of developing a humanist society all the world over.

EIILM, Kolkata, India under the leadership of Chairman & Director Prof. (Dr.) R P Banerjee has taken a pledge to continue with the movement of creating One Asia, ultimately leading to a homogeneous world.

The One-day International Seminar on "Asian Integration - Towards Creating a Homogenous Asian Mind" was organized by EIILM, Kolkata, India in association with Vidyasagar University, India & International College, Rajamangala University of Technology Krungthep, Thailand at Singapore. With the emergence of Asia as a Giant of world economy, the issue of integration Asians through a process of mutual understanding, developing a spirit of proper coexistence and identifying areas of communality in the thoughts and prospects of people of Asia need proper introspection and analysis. The story in Asia is about increasing connections, improving collaborations and deepening cooperation where in West the story is about separation, the re-erection of barriers and taking back control. It is in this context the first International Seminar was held in Bangkok, Thailand under the gross title of "Business in Borderless Asia- the Hurdles, Possibilities and Prospects" and the second edition of the same theme with broader perspective is being organized through the gross title "Asian Integration- Towards Creating a Homogeneous Asian Mind". This twin International Seminars shall have the prospect of sensitizing ideas and concepts across Asia towards creating a homogeneous mind in future.

Business leaders, teachers and thinkers from around the Asian continent took part in this one day conference to deliberate on the theme of this year's conference, i.e. integration of the Asian mind through thoughtful and evocative philosophical exchanges that will define the business acumen and leadership of the future.

The speakers and guests shared their individual views on various aspects of Asian thoughts, philosophy, business models and history during their individual talks which was followed by some remarkable presentations by the different faculty members of EIILM, Kolkata and Vidyasagar University. The students presented a poster suitably named 'One Asia' to spread a message of Asian integration. The culminating point of the conference was the panel discussion that helped summarizing the various ideas expressed during the day. The end of the event saw distribution of certificates to all and special prize money for best presenters of the day. The concluding event was an informal interaction amongst the many participants and guests over tea.
